Course description: In this 4 part learning series you'll learn the ins and outs of creating electronic books or eBooks. If you are working for a company who wants to publish books to internal clients or if you self publishing a book this course is for you. You'll first get an introduction of what an eBook is and then you see how the ePub structure works. Then you learn about styling your eBook. Next you you'll see how to convert a document to an ePub, what export settings you'll need for each platform and how to add navigation and media to your eBook. Then you'll see how to convert other ePub formats to the format you need, how to save and reapply styling lost in the conversion. Then you'll see how to view your ePub for editing and formatting. Then you'll learn how ePub Distribution works, what the different ePub platforms are and best practices to follow.
